

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

SECURE YOUR HOME WITH SMARTBLOCK

Those French windows that lend sophistication to your home? They're unsafe. In fact, any glass window leaves you vulnerable to burglars. And there are many of them around, alright

GLOBALLY, THE TOTAL NUMBER OF BURGLARIES STOOD AT A MIND-BOGGLING 4.62 MILLION AS RECENTLY AS 2015

You may be thinking you're well-protected by your sophisticated burglar alarm system. But think again. While their deafening sound may alert neighbours and send the burglar fleeing, do they really prevent the thief from breaking and entering? The only preventive measure that may come to mind at this stage is unsightly metal grates, which you no doubt want to avoid in an otherwise aesthetically pleasing space

But before we get into the details, here is the story of how this device that matches the brilliance of burglars step-for-step came to be

An analysis of the methods burglars resort to when attempting to enter homes was studied. What came to light was this: the practice of drilling a hole in the glass pane of windows using electric drills with silencers and then inserting a specialized tool that allows the burglar to simply turn the handle, open the window and enter the home is becoming a phenomenon. That is, the incidents of such entries are rising.

And an efficient method it is. For, using this method, burglars can manage an entry in just 20 seconds - yes, that's right, no more than 20 seconds flat! What's more, they can also access your home without making the slightest noise.
